

About Professor Robert Curtis

Robert “Bob” Curtis retired from a career in the telecommunications industry in 2009. He currently serves as the director of the MBA Mentor Program at Biola University’s Crowell School of Business, and also teaches Business Finance. He received his B.S. in Economics from UC Riverside, and his MBA in Finance from UCLA. Bob and his wife Christie are passionate about investing in the next generation of leaders, and are dedicated to drawing out each individual’s God-given potential.

Professor Curtis' Top 10 Tips for a Successful Life

- 1 Do the Mirror Test
- 2 Do Not Go at It Alone
- 3 Keep Moving Forward
- 4 Expect Miracles
- 5 Take Risk
- 6 Step Up
- 7 Always Stay Humble and Kind
- 8 Always Spend Less Than You Make
- 9 Always Be Honest
- 10 Put the Needs of Others Above Your Own